

MISCELLANEOUS.

FEMALE MUTABILITY.

I gave her a rose—and I gave her a ring,
And asked her to marry me then;
But she sent them all back—the insensible thing,
And said she'd no notion of men.
I told her I'd oceans of money and goods,
And tried her to fright with a growl,
But she answered she wasn't brought up in the woods,
To be scared by the shade of an owl.

I called her a baggage and every thing bad—
I slighted her features and form—
Till at length I succeeded in getting her mad,
And she raged like the sea in a storm;
And then in a moment I turned and I smiled,
And I called her my angel and all,
And she fell in my arms like a wearisome child,
And exclaimed—"We will marry next fall!"

Time—"It waits for no man—it travels onward with an even, uninterrupted, inexorable step, without accommodating itself to the delay of mortals. The restless hours pursue their course—moments press after moments—day treads upon day—year rolls upon year. Does man loiter! procrastinate? is he listless or indolent? Behold! the days, months, and years, un mindful of his delay, are never sluggish, but march forward in silent and solemn procession.

Our labors and toils, our ideas and feelings, may be suspended by sleep—darkness, silence, and death, may reign around us, but time rests not, slumbers not, but presses along and knows no stoppages. We may dam up mighty rivers—stop them in their journey to the ocean—press them back to their source—but the arrest of time is beyond the power of any being besides Omnipotence. The clock may cease to strike, the bell to toll, the sun may cease to shine, the moon stand still, but the busy hours pass on, the months and years must move forever forward."

Worthy of Imitation.—A rich old gentleman in Manchester, England, was called upon by some members of the Bible Society there, to subscribe his mite—he replied he had been thinking about it, but would first wish to become acquainted with their plans, &c. and wished them to call again. Some time after they did so, and he told them he had made up his mind to subscribe a guinea a year; and immediately began to count out upon the table a quantity of guineas,—and on he went till he had counted down 80 guineas. "There, gentlemen," cried the good old man, "I promised you a subscription of a guinea a year, I am 80 years old, and there are 80 guineas."

"That man may last, but never lives,
Who none can receive, but nothing gives;
Whom none can love, whom none can thank,
Creation's blank, creation's blank."

Love.—A complaint of the heart, growing out of an inordinate longing after something difficult to obtain. It attacks persons of both sexes, generally between the age of fifteen and thirty,—some have been known to have it at the age of sixty. Symptoms.—Absence of mind,—giving things wrong names—calling tears nectar, and sighs zephyrs,—a great fondness for poetry and music,—gazing on the moon and stars,—tooth ache, loss or neglect of business, loathing for all things save one, blood shot in the eyes, and constant desire to sigh. Effects.—A strong heart burn—pulse high—stupidly eloquent eyes, sleeplessness, and all that sort of thing. At times imagination bright—bowers of roses—winged Cupids, and battered peas; and then again oceans of despair, racks, tortures, and hair-triggered pistols. Cure.—Get married.

Reverence of Good Friday.—Some few years ago, on a Good Friday, John Randolph, then a Senator, entered the Senate Chamber, after the session had commenced; and the floor being then unoccupied, he addressed the Chair—"Sir, this is Good Friday—a day revered by all Christians—a day which ought to be kept as a Sabbath. I never suffer my slaves to work on this day. It is disgraceful, Sir, that we should sit here employed in the business of talking on this day. I remember, Sir, that when a Court of Justice sat on Good Friday in a certain city, a member of the Bar rose and said—"I hope your Honor will adjourn the court." Why? asked the Chief Justice—"Because, your Honor, no judicial tribunal has transacted business on this day since the days of Pontius Pilate." The court, Sir, was adjourned; and I move that the Senate adjourn." The motion was agreed to.

Value of a Saw Mill.—A man having a saw mill to sell, recommended it very highly on account of the value of the sawdust—it being the best food in the world for cattle when mixed with meal. A purchaser having taken it on this recommendation, began to feed his cattle on sawdust and meal, but finding they didn't thrive very well on their new feed, inquired of the former owner what the reason was? "Ah," says he, "the reason is clear enough; you don't know how to mix it, you should use less sawdust and more meal."

Judging from the euphony of their names, the Russian Diplomats would seem to have a remarkable antipathy to their noses, and to be invoking every one to rid them of such a useless excrescence as soon as possible, e. g.: The new Imperial Minister to this country is called Sononossouff, (saw my nose off). An attaché of the same legation in Washington, Blowmanozoff, (blow my nose off). Besides which, we have Col. Kutmanosov, (cut my nose off), of the Imperial Guard. Marshall Pulmanosoff, (pull my nose off); General Nozebegun, (nose begone), and many others.—Washington Metropolitan.

Too many Studies at once.—Young ladies engage in too many studies at one time. It is not an unfrequent occurrence for a young lady to engage in five or six different branches of science at once. It is a common, and I think a true saying, that a "Jack at all trades is good at none;" and I feel sure that a young lady who recites in French, Latin, Geography, Natural Philosophy, and Music, every day, cannot understand what she learns. It appears to me to be the perfection of education to learn to concentrate all the powers and faculties of the mind upon one subject, until that is perfectly understood. If a young lady commences the study of Natural Philosophy, and pursues it to the exclusion of all other studies, she not only retains what she learns, but she reflects upon the facts which she has collected during her hours of relaxation. And in a short time her whole soul will be engaged in it. Let a young lady commence her studies, and confine herself to one, or at most two books at one time, and if she does not finish her education too early in life, she will have laid up a vast fund of knowledge, a fund from which she can ever after draw the richest draughts of enjoyment.—Annals of Education.

Singular Casualty.—A correspondent communicates to us the following extraordinary and distressing intelligence. While Mr. William Walker, at Speedwell, Claiborne county, (Tenn.) an elderly gentleman, was making a fence, he discovered a large spider, which he killed with a stone. In afterwards prosecuting his work, he had occasion to handle the same stone. A mortification shortly afterwards commenced in his hand, and increased until it produced his death, in 8 or 10 days. At the time he handled the stone, he had a slight sore on his hand in which the mortification afterwards commenced, which was supposed to have come in contact with some poisonous matter from the spider left on the stone. Dr. William Rogers, who attended Mr. Walker, and who also had a sore finger, died with a mortification, in four days after it was first discovered that his finger was affected. Our correspondent further informs us that a number of those who assisted in laying out Mr. Walker have been seriously afflicted—some are now very low, but only the two deaths above mentioned had taken place.—Knoxville Register.

Novel Ejection Process.—A short time ago a cottager, between Thorne and Doncaster, was visited by two bailiffs, who proceeded to mark his effects. The old man, recollecting that he had some property outside, went out, and immediately brought in a hive of bees, which he threw into the house, and bid them mark that! In a short time he had the gratification to see his unwelcome guests take a hasty departure, sans ceremonie, through the window, covered with bees, in which state they made the best of their ways to their respective homes.—London paper.

PROSPECTUS.
Andrew R. Porter & Co.
Propose to publish in the Town of Lincoln, N. C. a Newspaper, to be called the Lincoln Transcript.

It is believed that the rich and flourishing community of Lincoln County and its vicinity, can support with ease and convenience a Newspaper. The wholesome effect of a press upon the morals and intelligence of a people, when it is conducted on the principles of truth and virtue, is most obvious. The Politics of the TRANSCRIPT will be firm to Southern principles, and as such, will be opposed to the election of Martin Van Buren as the next President: But as our main object will be to raise the moral and intellectual standard of the community, (unless compelled by unreasonable provocation) the course of this paper will be mild and conciliatory. Having already established a Press at Lincoln, the Paper will be issued as soon as a sufficient number of Subscribers may be obtained.

TERMS.
The Transcript will be published weekly on a medium sheet, at $1 50 in advance, or $2 if paid after the issuing of the first number.

DYSPEPSIA AND LIVER COMPLAINTS.

THE PATENT VEGETABLE MEDICINE, STOMACHIC ET HEPATICE, formed by chymical analysis and synthesis of several proximate vegetable principles, are universally acknowledged to have totally eclipsed the pretensions of every other remedy, and superseded the necessity of every other mode of treatment wherever the above diseases are found to exist, as well as in enlargement of the Spleen and in Jaundice.

Among the symptoms of Dyspepsia and Liver complaints, are flatulency, sourness or burning in the stomach, melancholy, irritability, disagreeable taste in the mouth; great irregularity of appetite, which is sometimes voracious, and at other times greatly deficient; thirst, fetid breath, nausea, weakness of the stomach, acid eructations, palpitation, drowsiness, irregularity of the bowels, pressure on the stomach after meals, pain in the head, dizziness or vertigo, confusion of mind, attended with loss of memory, a gnawing in the stomach when empty, chilliness, affection of sight and hearing, pain and weakness in the back, languor, disturbed sleep, cold feet and hands, tremor, uneasiness in the throat, cough, pain in the side or breast, &c.

DR. PETERS'

Vegetable Anti-Bilious Pills,
Are the cheapest and most approved Family Medicine ever offered to the Public. They are extremely mild in their operation, neither causing sickness of the stomach, nor any unpleasant sensation in the system, as is too frequently the result from medicines given to act upon the bowels. They act specifically upon the Liver, when in a torpid condition, carrying off a large quantity of bile, through the influence of the excrement function, which, if suffered to remain in the system, would produce either Jaundice, Liver Complaint, Bilious Fever, Fever and Ague, or some other grievous bodily affliction. In all cases of torpor of the bowels, they act like a charm. In recent cases of Dyspepsia, they are a certain cure. Many persons who were subject to violent attacks of sick head-ache, have been much benefited, and several perfectly cured in a few weeks by their use. They are highly recommended as a preventative and cure of Bilious complaints. Persons who are subject to that distressing complaint, sea-sickness, by taking a portion or two of them a few days previous to embarking on board the vessel, will be almost certain to escape it. Females can use them at all periods, without incurring any risk. Their virtues will remain unimpaired for years in any climate. No family should be without these Pills; a portion of them, taken occasionally, would be the means of preventing much suffering from sickness. It is from neglect of keeping up a regular peristaltic action of the stomach and bowels, thus suffering to be absorbed and mingled with the blood, unassimilated fluids, that most diseases are produced. Dr. P. feels confident that no person who gives these Pills a fair trial, will ever after feel willing to be without them. The testimony of thousands speaking in the highest terms of their efficacy, might be added, but the very high reputation Dr. P. has acquired as the inventor of the "Patent Vegetable Medicine Stomachica et Hepatica," for the cure of Dyspepsia and Liver complaints, is thought a sufficient guarantee to those wishing to make a trial of their virtues. They contain not a particle of Mercury, or any ingredient that does not act in harmony with health and oppose disease.

Dr. P. having been educated under the most eminent American and European Medical professors, and practiced his profession many years in the South, where diseases of the most obstinate character prevail, considers himself well qualified to judge on the nature of diseases incident to warm climates.

Prepared by JOSEPH PRIESTLY PETERS, M. D. P. B. C. P. M. at his Institution for the cure of obstinate Diseases, by means of vegetable remedies, No. 129 Liberty-street, New York, inventor and sole proprietor. Each box contains forty Pills, Price 50 CENTS.

These invaluable Medicines are sold in Charlotte by Smith & Williams; in Concord by P. B. Barringer, and in Salisbury by John Murphy, where numerous certificates of their efficacy can be seen.
